Biannual News from Good Samaritan Hospital Foundation • Spring 2015

Sounds of Compassion

Dear Foundation Family:

How often do we take a moment to quiet our minds and truly listen to the sounds around us? Here at Good Sam, when I pause and listen, I hear miraculous, fulfilling, life-giving sounds: the first cry of a newborn, sobs of relief from patients' family members after being told good news, and countless words of appreciation from patients for the compassionate care they received that both saved and enhanced their lives.

By being part of Good Samaritan Hospital, in whatever capacity that may be, the sounds of gratitude extend to you as well. In this issue you will see how your generosity and personal investment, whether of finances, time, or both, ensure that our families and neighbors continue to receive the top level of care they have come to know from Good Sam.

You will also see in this edition that the sounds of applause, laughter, and music (Motown to be exact!) were abundant at this year's annual Gala. Once again, the dedication and selflessness of The Good Samaritans were evident by the caliber of the event and the clear fun and enjoyment experienced by all in attendance. Combined with the valuable causes the Gala proceeds support, the night could not have been more of a celebration.

To every member of the Foundation family, on behalf of the people and communities of Greater Cincinnati, I hope you hear my deepest and most genuine thanks.

CHRISTOPHER J. HEEKIN (KIP) is no stranger to Good Samaritan Hospital. Three generations of his family, he says, “have received phenomenal care from numerous areas of the hospital.” Kip, who holds an undergraduate degree in Economics from Duke University and an MBA from the Darden School at the University of Virginia, is a Senior Private Banker and Vice President at Fifth Third Bank in Cincinnati. Prior roles at the bank include positions in Commercial Credit and Middle Market Lending.

Of joining the Foundation Board, Kip says, “I am excited. . . having strong healthcare providers in our community is so critical.” Through serving on the Board, Kip hopes to lend his expertise to become an advocate for the many services and programs at Good Sam. He says, “Raising awareness and support for the numerous programs Good Samaritan Hospital has in place is necessary to maintaining the hospital’s position as a leader in healthcare in Cincinnati.” Kip and his wife, Jenny, have four sons.

GREGORY W. OLSON

GREG OLSON comes to the Foundation Board as someone who “enjoys working with other talented individuals who like to give back to the community.” Currently, Greg is CEO of SilverPine LLC and Co-Manager of Hubert Family LLC, responsible for identifying, investing, and monitoring a variety of investment interests throughout the United States. He is also the CEO of Urban Sites and its affiliated entities. Urban Sites has been revitalizing the historic Over-the-Rhine neighborhood since the mid 1980s by transforming dilapidated historic buildings into modern loft style apartments, condominiums and commercial spaces. Greg earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Xavier University in 1991.

Using a combination of his financial and operating professional experience and his faith, Greg says he hopes to “use the talents God has given me to grown personally and to nurture the great work the Foundation has achieved.” Greg is a devoted family man; he and his wife, Cindy, have three children, all Good Sam babies.

MATT SHEAKLEY joins the Foundation Board with an understanding of “all that Good Sam does for our community.” Born and raised in Cincinnati, Matt graduated from Tulane University in 1993. Since 2005, Matt has been President of Sheakley. Serving employers since 1963, Sheakley is a family owned human resources outsourcing firm. Sheakley offers tailored solutions that help its clients attract, care for, protect, manage, and reward their most valuable assets – their employees.

Matt is a member of the Young Presidents Organization and the Cincinnati Regional Business Committee. With regard to serving on the Foundation Board, Matt says, “I am looking forward to tackling any issues and fostering the success of current and future Board initiatives.” Matt and his wife, Robin, have two children.

LINDSEY JARVIS

NEW FOUNDATION STAFF

LINDSEY JARVIS is a Cincinnati native, returning to the area following work in the human and social services sector in Dayton, Ohio. After earning her Bachelor’s degree from the University of Dayton and her Master’s in Public Administration with a certificate in Nonprofit Management from Wright State University, Lindsey implemented workforce programs for disadvantaged populations and also assisted in fundraising efforts for a nonprofit organization in Dayton. With her family’s longstanding involvement with Good Samaritan Hospital, Lindsey is excited to return to Cincinnati and be part of the Foundation’s mission. Her main responsibility is grant writing, where she is looking forward to becoming involved in the various programs within the hospital and throughout the community.

Marilyn and Bill Richardson

The Francis Fund: Helping the Less Fortunate

Marilyn and Bill Richardson have a clear message. “Everyone has a responsibility to help those who are less fortunate.” Through establishing the Francis Fund at Good Samaritan Hospital, the Richardsons are doing just that, and they invite you to join in their efforts.

The Francis Fund, which the couple named after Pope Francis for his emphasis on the poor, pays for mental health resources such as medication for those at Good Sam who cannot afford it. Although established by Bill and Marilyn, anyone who wants to provide healing, care, and compassion to some of our community’s most vulnerable people can contribute to the fund. In fact, it is the Richardson’s sincerest hope that you are called to do so.

Both Bill and Marilyn have seen firsthand the great need for the Francis Fund. Marilyn begins to describe her own experiences at Good Sam very candidly. She says, “From the photograph, I know I look like the average woman. However, I have a form of bipolar.” This illness led to the couple’s first experience with Good Sam in 2000, when Marilyn was an inpatient for the first of two hospital stays in the Behavioral Health Unit. The second was in 2005, when she participated in Good Sam’s Day Treatment Program. Since then, the couple manages her illness through a treatment combination of medication and counseling. Both Marilyn and Bill credit the psychiatric team at Good Sam with delivering what Marilyn calls “excellent care” that enabled her to “return to normal, daily life.”

When asked what her experiences at Good Sam have meant to her, Marilyn simply gets up out of her chair and states, “I’ll be right back.” She returns with a stained-glass rose she painted during Art Therapy at the Day Program. She recalls that she stared at the blank glass for three days and was scared to touch it, for that meant she would have to express her feelings. After praying, however, Marilyn painted the rose and loved it. She still keeps it to this day, saying, “I never got rid of it because I wanted to see how far I’ve come.”

Through it all, Bill has been with Marilyn, as he says, “every step of the way.” They truly have a partnership and team approach to manage Marilyn’s condition which, they point out, is just like any other chronic illness. While the journey has been challenging, they are committed to taking it together. “Some mental illnesses drive couples apart; we have found just the opposite. It has drawn us closer together,” Marilyn says. “Without insurance and without Bill, I don’t know where I’d be.”

Both Marilyn and Bill know the harsh reality that not everyone is as fortunate to have the financial resources or emotional support, both of which are critical to effectively managing and living with mental illness. With one in four adults in the United States having a diagnosable behavioral health condition, the need is tremendous. In our own city, more than 2,000 people are admitted to Good Sam’s Behavioral Health Unit every year. Many of these individuals struggle financially and cannot afford the ongoing cost of the mental health medication that is necessary to treat their diseases.

Marilyn herself spoke with many people in such situations during her time at Good Sam, and both she and Bill were compelled to help. “The whole point of the Francis Fund is to support people who are unable to buy their own medications,” Bill says. “Anything to get the person treated and stay treated; that’s the key.” Just like any disease, he emphasizes that “there are people who are entirely capable of living normal lives if they had the right medications. . . that’s where the hope lies.”

Because they understand that funding for mental health services is limited, Bill and Marilyn Richardson are annually doing what they can to ease the pain of others who suffer as Marilyn did. Even given their continuing contributions, however, the Francis Fund will not become self-sustaining. The need is just so great. Additional contributions are both necessary and critical for the Francis Fund to survive and to provide the compassionate healing that all people deserve. That’s why the hope also lies with you.

For more information or to contribute to the Francis Fund, please contact the Foundation at 513.862.3786, or go online to www.gshfoundation.com.

REDISCOVERING VASCULAR SURGERY:

The Magellan Robotic System

Continuing its position as a leader in robotic assisted surgery, Good Samaritan Hospital became the first in Greater Cincinnati to utilize a groundbreaking piece of technology to help people undergoing vascular surgery. It is called the Magellan Robotic System, and in November, 2014, was used for the first time by Patrick Muck, MD, Program Director, Vascular Surgery Residency at Good Samaritan and vascular surgeon with the TriHealth Heart Institute.

Magellan allows doctors more control and precision while navigating catheters through small blood vessels in complex vascular procedures. This may help improve procedural success rates and enables more patients to be treated by less invasive endovascular methods rather than open surgery.

Patrick Muck, MD

“This technology will grant an unprecedented level of precision to Good Samaritan vascular surgeons navigating the extremely complex anatomy of peripheral blood vessels,” says Dr. Muck. “This system builds upon Good Samaritan’s longstanding experience in surgical robotics and enables the hospital to offer the broadest set of options with cutting-edge technologies for treatment of patients with vascular disease using the most innovative technology available.”

The robotic system is used in a wide variety of endovascular procedures. It will help surgeons navigate the blood vessels outside of the heart and brain, simplifying complicated procedures. Magellan enables surgeons to precisely steer guide wires and robotic catheters, which can rotate 360 degrees and bend 180 degrees in any direction, and provides a highly stable platform that is outside the radiation field to which the surgeon would otherwise be exposed. This may lead to fewer catheter exchanges during the procedure, more predictable procedure times, and may help facilitate navigation through very complex anatomy, potentially leading to less radiation and contrast exposure for the physician, and making the procedural outcomes more predictable for the patient.

Overall, Good Samaritan has completed nine vascular surgeries since acquiring the technology in late November, 2014, including procedures to treat vascular disease in the aorta, carotid arteries, hepatic arteries, and peripheral artery disease of the lower extremities.

The Robotics Program at Good Samaritan Hospital is excited to extend the benefits of robotic assisted surgery to vascular patients. These benefits would not be possible without philanthropic support, and we are truly grateful to the following donors whose generosity will create positive impacts on so many peoples’ lives: The Bonn Family, Dr. John Cardoso, Lair and Anna Kennedy, Tom and Bev Olthaus, Mr. George Osterfeld, Dr. and Mrs. Ranjit Rath, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ruthman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sieve, and James and Darla Wainscott.

2015 Annual Fund Campaign

The Good Samaritan College has kicked off their 2015 Annual Fund Campaign, Light the Way... Invest in Their Future. Through the generous support of our alumni and friends each year, we are able to provide over $120,000 in annual scholarships to students, offer educational programs, and purchase the necessary equipment to keep up with the ever-changing technology to better prepare our students for their nursing careers.

GRANT FUNDING SECURED BY GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL FOUNDATION

Many of the efforts within Good Samaritan Hospital and throughout the community would not be possible without the generous support of foundations through grant funding. We would like to recognize and thank the following foundations for their support of these projects and programs that improve the quality of life for our neighbors and community.

◆ CINCY-CINCO FOUNDATION

Cincy-Cinco, a program of Hispanics Avanzando Hispanics, awarded a grant to partially fund improving the oral health status of patients at the Good Samaritan Free Health Center. Many patients at the Free Health Center have rarely or never seen a dentist, and these funds are helping to provide services such as extractions and cleanings.

◆ NFL FOUNDATION

A Breast Cancer Awareness grant from the NFL Foundation will fund on-site mammography services utilizing the TriHealth Women's Services van. Mammograms will be provided to underserved women who would otherwise go without this preventive screening.

◆ OHIO ASSOCIATION OF FREE CLINICS

Good Samaritan Hospital Foundation has been awarded a grant by the Ohio Association of Free Clinics in support of the Good Samaritan Free Health Center. This grant is to partially support expansion of interventional psychology services for patients in order to promote emotional health.

◆ RUTH LYONS CHILDREN'S FUND

Continuing their tradition of caring for children, the Ruth Lyons Children's Fund awarded a grant to fund gifts for children in Surgicare and the NICU, including a memory quilt for each infant that parents can take home with their baby upon discharge.

◆ SC MINISTRY FOUNDATION

A grant has been awarded to Good Samaritan Hospital Foundation for the Summer Youth Employment Program by the SC Ministry Foundation. Because of this grant, teens from Seton High School are offered the opportunity to work as a summer employee at Good Samaritan Hospital and other TriHealth locations. For young women interested in pursuing a career in healthcare, this program offers a variety of employment opportunities with competitive wages that provide professional and personal development.

On a cold wintery day in January, the Good Samaritan Hospital Guild Board met with a huge decision to ponder. When the voting was complete, the Guild Board chose to award the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at Good Samaritan Hospital $500,400 for the purchase of 28 cardio-respiratory monitors. The announcement of this award was made at the February 2015 Guild membership meeting. Carol Mayborg, President of Good Samaritan Hospital Guild, was beaming with pride when she made this historical announcement! "This is the first time the Guild has been able to make such an impactful gift of this magnitude to Good Samaritan Hospital," states Ms. Mayborg. I speak on behalf of the entire Guild Board of Directors when I say, "this is a great day for the Guild and its membership to be able to make this award."

The award is the largest single gift made by Good Samaritan Hospital Guild.

EVENT RAISES MORE THAN $544,000 TO SUPPORT WOMEN'S SERVICES AT GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL

The Good Samaritans' 31st Annual Gala – Marvelous Magical Motown - raised more than $544,000 to benefit the Women's Services at Good Samaritan Hospital for the purchase of state-of-the-art ultrasound equipment. The event will also support Good Samaritan Free Health Center and the Medical Education Research Fund. This amount is an all time record for this annual fundraising event.

More than 730 supporters of Good Samaritan Hospital Foundation gathered at the Hyatt Regency, Cincinnati, in the Regency Ballroom, where guests were treated to a cocktail reception followed by a gourmet dinner. After dinner, guests danced the night away to the music of SHOUT! featuring the Legends of Soul. Gold and silver were the colors for the evening with gold and silver blinking fedoras, flashing rings, princess crowns, and tambourines to keep the beat with the music.

TriHealth, Inc. generously underwrote the Hors d'oeuvres, Salad Course and Dinner Entrée and the Good Samaritan Hospital Medical and Dental Staff underwrote the Musical Entertainment.

Gala Co-Chairman Nancy Fehr, John Prout, Chief Executive Officer, TriHealth and Cindy Ortner, Gala Chairman

Other corporate sponsors included: AK Steel Corporation, Fifth Third Bank, Macy's, Phillips Supply Co., SC Ministry Foundation, and Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati. These substantial underwriting and sponsorship donations had a considerable impact on the fundraising efforts for this annual event.

The Good Samaritans is a dedicated volunteer organization of Good Samaritan Hospital Foundation and includes members with ties to the medical and business community. The Good Samaritans have raised nearly $7 million in their history. This year's Gala Chairman was Cindy Ortner and her Co-Chairman was Nancy Fehr. They worked diligently with other Gala committee volunteers and with physician champion Michael Marcotte, MD.

Thank you to our generous corporate sponsors, underwriters and table sponsors for their outstanding support in making the event a record-breaking fundraising effort in the amount of $544,000 to benefit Women's Services at Good Samaritan Hospital along with Good Samaritan Free Health Center and Medical Education Research Fund
