

Liz Salyers, MS, AG-ACNP-BC, SCRNP

Liz has been in the healthcare field for over 18 years, initially finding her love for science working in Veterinary medicine. She graduated as an RN in 2012 and began her career at TriHealth working as a telemetry and emergency department (ED) RN.

During her time in the ED, she found a passion for acute stroke care allowing her to assist multiple TriHealth EDs in the initial TJC Stroke certification and subsequent recertifications. With this passion she focused her career further by becoming a TriHealth stroke coordinator while also obtaining her Nurse Practitioner Degree.

In 2021 Liz graduated from Wright State University's Adult-Geriatric Acute Care Nurse Practitioner program. After graduation, she joined TriHealth's Neuroscience Institute as the Bethesda North Neurology Nurse Practitioner. Liz continues to enjoy caring for hospitalized patients with all neurological conditions including providing post stroke care in the newly established TriHealth Stroke/TIA Clinic.

In her free time Liz enjoys being a mom, spending time with friends and family, watching her kids play sports, and traveling.
